

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Stephen J. Tonsor is professor of European intellectual history at the University of Michigan. He has published widely in both scholarly and popular journals.

Henry Regnery is the founder and chairman of the board of the Henry Regnery Company, Publishers.

Felix Morley, now living in retirement on Gibson Island, Maryland, was formerly editor of The Washington Post and later president of Haverford College. "Europe on the Eve" is an excerpt from his forthcoming memoirs, Twilight Journey.

George A. Panichas is professor of English at the University of Maryland and has been elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts of the United Kingdom. His latest book, The Reverent Discipline, Essays in Literary Criticism and Culture, has just been published by the University of Tennessee Press.

Rene de Visme Williamson, professor of government and chairman of the department of political science at Louisiana State University, is the author of numerous books and articles, amongst them Culture and Policy: The United States and the Hispanic World and Independence and Involvement: A Christian Re-Oriented in Political Science.

William Marina, professor of history at Florida Atlantic University, has published numerous articles and reviews, and is the co-author, with Nathaniel Weyl, of American Statesmen on Slavery and the Negro.

Reid Buckley is a novelist and lecturer whose recent novel on Spain, Servants and Their Masters, is an alternate spring selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

The book reviews are contributed by: J. M. Lalley, associate editor of Modern Age; Mario Pei, professor emeritus of Romance philology, Columbia University; Haven Bradford Gow, whose articles have appeared in The Intercollegiate Review and other publications; Tommy W. Rogers, professor of sociology at Mississippi College; John Russell, professor of English, University of Maryland; Hugh Mercer Curtler, professor of philosophy, Southwest Minnesota State College; Ta-Ling Lee, professor of history, Southern Connecticut State College; Brenton H. Smith, professor of history, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; Robert Drake, professor of English, University of Tennessee.